

Javier Estrada
Professor of Finance

IESE Business School
Barcelona, Spain

Prof. Estrada holds a B.A. in Economics from the National University of La Plata (Buenos Aires, Argentina), and both a M.S. in Finance and a Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign (USA). His areas of specialization are portfolio management, wealth management, investments, equity markets, emerging markets, and law & economics.

Prof. Estrada held positions at both the economics department and the business department of the Carlos III University (Madrid, Spain). He is also a regular visiting professor at the Torcuato Di Tella University (Buenos Aires, Argentina) and the University of Montevideo (Montevideo, Uruguay), has visited the Swedish School of Economics and Business Administration (Helsinki, Finland) and Copenhagen Business School (Copenhagen, Denmark), and has lectured to undergraduates, graduates, and executives around the world.

Prof. Estrada has done extensive research on the issue of risk, both in general and with special focus on downside risk, and on several issues related to portfolio management and investment strategies. He has also done extensive research on emerging markets and insider trading. His articles have appeared in numerous journals such as the Journal of Portfolio Management, the Journal of Investing, the Journal of Asset Management, the Journal of Applied Corporate Finance, the Quarterly Review of Economics and Finance, and the European Journal of Finance, among others.

Prof. Estrada is the founding editor of the Emerging Markets Review, was editor of the journal between inception in 2000 and the end of 2006, and currently he remains an associate editor. He is also in the advisory board of several other academic journals.

Prof. Estrada is the author of Finance in a Nutshell: A No-Nonsense Companion to the Tools and Techniques of Finance, published by FT Prentice Hall in 2005. The book, originally written in English, has been translated into Spanish, Italian, and Chinese.

Prof. Estrada is also a wealth management advisor at Sports Global Consulting, where he advises professional athletes on their investments.